Suchi Vuu is an associate at Rebar Kelly's Blue Bell office, representing carriers in coverage disputes and their insureds in complex litigation matters.

Professional Experience

Suchi started her career as a judicial law clerk in the criminal division of the Philadelphia Court of Common Pleas, which exposed her to bench trials that dealt with drug-related offenses and violent criminal jury cases, involving elements of attempted murder, deadly weapons, rape, and assault.

Suchi brings aggressive and creative problem-solving skills to Rebar Kelly to secure the best outcome for her clients. Experienced with defending a multitude of highly publicized cases with significant exposure, including but not limited to matters involving wrongful death, catastrophic personal injury, construction defects, professional liability, products liability, and premises liability, Suchi is aware that all matters necessitate different approaches and solutions that require sensitivity and understanding. Suchi also handled insurance matters with emphasis on first-property insurance coverage disputes, including claims involving hail damage, water intrusion, and arson.

Education

Suchi graduated cum laude from Temple University, obtaining her Bachelor of Arts degree in Business Administration with a concentration on legal studies. She completed law school with her first child in tow at three-months-old, earning her Juris Doctor degree from Widener University Delaware Law School, where she was also awarded the Certificate of Achievement in Appellate Practice and Procedure from Delaware Supreme Court Justice Randy J. Holland.

Interests

As a woman of color, a mother of two young daughters, and a daughter of immigrant parents from Korea, Suchi is a proponent of diversity, inclusion, and equality. With a deep sense of pride in her heritage, she stresses the importance of carrying on familial and cultural traditions with her children, who are also Chinese and Vietnamese.

When she is not focused on work, household duties, and spending time with her family, she enjoys experimenting with makeup, trying new food, fishkeeping, and reading fiction novels.
